MAY IN GANG SCHEME VISIT

By Pat Higgins

waltham@yellowad.co.uk

HOME Secretary Theresa May visited Waltham Forest to learn more about a scheme to combat violent gangs.

Mrs May went to the Construction and Skills Centre in Leytonstone on Thursday to meet former gang members who have learned new trades.

She heard how the past year alone gang violence among 10 to 19-year-olds in Waltham Forest had almost halved.

Mrs May, who was accompanied by local MPs Ian Duncan Smith and Stella Creasy, introduced the government's anti-gang strategy after the 2011 summer riots.

She heard about innovative 'job swap' schemes for former and would-be gang members and how access to help from local charities and organisations had been instrumental in changing young peoples' outlooks and demeanours.

She questioned professionals and practitioners about issues such as housing, the sharing of information and the willingness of families to get involved with the project.

Council leader Chris Robbins welcomed the Home Secretary and took part in the round table discussion.

He said: Since the programme's introduction we've seen a reduction in gang-related crime, but most importantly we've helped young people to turn their lives around. In the past year alone gang violence amongst 10 to 19-year-olds has almost halved.

VISIT: Home Secretary Theresa May with Chris Robbins, Liaquat Ali, Iain Duncan Smith.

Explore estate

WALTHAMSTOW Historical Society is organising a walk to explore the Warner Estate.

It takes place on Saturday July 20 at 2pm and is repeated on Wednesday July 24, at 11 am.

The walk lasts about 1 1/2 hours. In both cases the meeting point is outside Blackhorse Road underground station. No need to book -just turn up.

Business talk

MORE than 30 local firms attending Waltham Forest Federation of Small Businesses heard council leader Chris Robbins outline the authority's four priorities and the work it is doing to support businesses in the borough.

One of the highlights was the Arcade site which is being transformed and the foundations for a new cinema, restaurants, shops and flats being laid.

Paint project

FOREST Recycling Project (FRP) is holding an exhibition of spin paintings made by creative volunteers.

This free exhibition runs from Saturday July 20 to Saturday August 31, at The Slate Gallery with a display in the window of Leytonstone Library and The Stone Space, 6 Church Lane, E11 1HG.

All the paintings use reclaimed paint – this is left-over, diverting it from landfill.

Kikelomo Ogunseye got a six-month conditional discharge and ordered to pay £175 costs – including a sum for clearing the garden – by Haringey magistrates after she admitted failing to clear the eyesore in Hardie Road Dagenham.

Ogunseye admitted the offence when she appeared before them on June 21. She had left the rubbish lying in her front garden despite a legal notice from the council to move it.

Brekkie with MP

AN MP is giving members of his community volunteer network breakfast to thank them for their work over the past year.

More than 1,500 residents have offered to help Jon Cruddas, who represents Dagenham and Rainham, and 200 meeting regularly.

He said: "The main aim is to have a volunteer on every street to help vulnerable members of the community and close the gaps that the government's spending cuts are creating."

Aid for animals

VET practice YourVets on Whalebone Lane South, Dagenham, has signed up a team of four for this year's Vet Charity Challenge to raise money for animal charities.

Optimism after meeting with interim board at troubled school

Parents see a brighter future

A TROUBLED Barking school looks set for a fresh start.

Parents who have been battling for changes said they were now optimistic about the future for Eastbury Primary School, after a meeting with members of the board sent in to improve standards.

Education Secretary Michael Gove appointed an Interim Executive Board (IEB) at the beginning of last month following a steady flow of complaints from parents about bullying, cheating in exams and poor leadership.

He said at the time he was investigating the school. The board has been working there since June 10.

Yesterday all four board members met parents for one-to-one sessions.

"We feel the future is much brighter," said Moni Wright who has been the parents' spokeswoman throughout their campaign for an investigation into the Dawson Avenue school, which has involved petitioning Mr Gove.

Mrs Wright is looking forward to the new headteacher, Leigh Hovey, taking over in September.

"He was very positive and determined to ensure the children get the good education they deserve."

"We had been concerned about the school for a long time, feeling our children were just not getting the education they deserved."

"Now we are hopeful. But I have warned that if things do not work out we, parents, will be back to make sure they do."

DIG IT: Pupils at the big potato harvest.

One potato, two...

PUPILS at a Barking school were excused grubby fingers as they harvested potatoes growing since February.

Tuesday was D-Day – D for digging up vegetables. Teachers and councillors all watched as the youngsters from Trinity Special School, Heathway Dagenham, brought home the harvest.

Each of the 15 classes at Trinity had their own vegetable patch, with the class that harvested the most produce, determined by weight, winning a prize.

SCHOOLGIRL Alex Ward, 15, came third in this year's Grand Final of the Jack Petchey "Speak Out" Challenge.

Then youngster from Barking & Dagenham's Sydney Russell School, was one of 15 finalists. She impressed judges with her speech "Creases", a story that used paper as a metaphor for a person with creases and scribbles representing verbal damage and physical abuse from bullying.

She won a trophy and £150.

Chief Judge Keir Starmer QC, the Director of Public Prosecutions and Head of the Crown Prosecution Service, said: "The winning speeches were particularly impressive and deserving winners of the competition."

"The 'Speak Out' Challenge was a great event to have been a part of. I congratulate all those who participated in it."

Steve's book makes big splash

Waterside guide is best-seller

AN ESSEX author has topped an Amazon Best Seller list thanks to the July heat-wave.

Camping by the Waterside, by Yellow Advertiser news editor Stephen Neale, has become Britain's biggest-selling camping guide.

Stephen, 49, said: "It's brilliant to see some good weather, but I'm double pleased the book was Number 1 at the weekend."

Stephen spent five years researching and writing the guide. It was published by Bloomsbury in March 2013.

Despite rave reviews, the unseasonal cold spring generated only modest interest. But the summer heatwave sparked a rush of sales, and the book climbed to Number 1 in Amazon's Camping Guide Best Seller List at the weekend, and Top 10 in both the Amazon EU and UK Travel Guides charts.

The campsite guide describes locations that accommodate tents, motorhomes and caravans. Despite its popularity among sun seekers, it was actually written as an antidote to bad weather, rather than sunshine.

"As a family we looked for waterside campsites because when we had rain the philosophy was 'stay wet,'" he said.

"Canoeing and swimming can be just as much fun in a cheap wetsuit in a storm, as in sunshine."

"But I guess people may need a little convincing. Camping and sun are still the big two."

Stephen has spent ten years travelling the British Isles searching for campsites by water because of his passion for sailing, canoeing, surfing, swimming and fishing. He recorded more than 2,000 sites and posted them online for free at www.camponwater.com in 2009. Bloomsbury then commissioned him to write a guide to his 130 favourite sites in 2011.

BBC TV presenter and travel writer Martin Dorey wrote the foreword to the book and The Mail on Sunday newspaper reviewed and rated it as its Book of the Week in May.

The book has won plaudits from Surfers Against Sewage, canoe groups and angling clubs.

The Met Office predicts the heat wave to last until at least the end of July.

Council employee praised

COUNCIL employee Jackie Hampton has been praised for keeping two autistic children calm when they were stuck in a traffic jam for several hours on a sweltering day.

Their parents congratulated her for her efforts looking after their youngsters during their ordeal.

She kept the boys occupied with games like eye spy for three hours, until she was able to walk them along the hard shoulder, so they could be picked up and taken home.

She also kept the parents up-dated every 20 minutes.

Jackie, who works for Barking and Dagenham Council's passenger transport team, said she had never experienced anything like it in the 12 years she had been with the council.

Police warned Jackie they were unlikely to move before 10pm, but suggested they could walk to the nearest turn off if someone could meet them there.

Parent Emma Smyth volunteered to pick them up and made her way to the nearest bridge – and they all met up on the hard shoulder at 6.45pm, normally the boys would have been home by 4.30pm.

Emma said she was so grateful for the way Jackie had kept the children calm while they were stuck in traffic.

PRAISED: Jackie Hampton.

Park police team scoop award

A SPECIAL parks policing team has won this year's Borough Recognition Award for outstanding commitment to Barking and Dagenham communities and received the trophy at a town hall ceremony this week.

After the initial complaints the council agreed with the Met to fund a number of officers dedicated to local parks.

Since the launch of the team parks and open spaces have become safer and more local people are making use of them. Chief Inspector Richard Goodwin of Barking and Dagenham Police said: "My officers are dedicated to ensuring that the law abiding community can make use of green spaces without having their experience spoilt by a small minority of people who are involved in crime and anti social behaviour."

Big drop in disruption on the Tube

TRESPASSING, cable theft and stone throwing, the main causes of Tube disruption, have dropped by 35.8 per cent. British Transport Police (BTP) and Transport for London (TfL) claim it is down to their joint-action.

There were 1,264 crimes between June 2010 and June 2011 which caused delays, but this has been cut to 940 in 2011/12 and to 811 in 2012/13.

The Police Medic Response Unit (PMRU) was introduced in May 2010 for fast medical help to people taken ill, minimising disruption. The unit comprises 20 medically trained officers.

And from February 2012, TfL's Emergency Response Unit (ERU) vehicles, driven by the BTP, were able to travel with blue lights and sirens, allowing them to swiftly respond. The ERU deals with incidents where public safety is at risk, such as obstructions on the track, broken down trains and incidents where people are struck by trains.

A cable-theft team, introduced last year, has seen a reduction in that crime.

Chief Superintendent Paul Brogden said: "Over the last three years, we have achieved a significant reduction in the number of crimes that cause disruption to the Tube network. This has been down to successful partnership work between BTP and TfL, particularly the introduction of the PMRU and ERU."

Drivetime

By Robin Roberts

TOYOTA is launching the world's first full hybrid compact estate in the Auris Touring Sports which will also feature traditional petrol and diesel alternatives.

Developed from the Auris hatchback which was also the first family car with three powertrain derivatives in the line-up when it appeared in 2010, the new Touring Sports has a longer body to increase rear seat room as well as providing a low load-bed capable of stretching from 530 litres to 1,658 litres. This makes it the longest in its class at more than two metres.

The 1.8 Hybrid emissions are down to 85g/km but the other end of the performance scale the combined petrol and electric motor can take it from standstill to 62mph in 11.2secs and onto a maximum 109mph. It can also be driven in pure electric mode without any tailpipe emissions and it also qualifies for VED exclusion so there's no road tax to pay.

An estimated 45 per cent of the Touring Sports sales are likely to be the hybrid which offers significant duty, tax, fuel and depreciation savings to buyers, whether fleet or retail.

Built at Toyota's British factory in Burnaston, Derbyshire, alongside the Auris hatchback and Avensis and using petrol and diesel engines from its Deeside plant in Wales, the new Auris Touring Sports goes on sale this week priced from £15,595 with the Hybrid Synergy Drive CVT costing £21,095 and rising to £22,845. The 14 Active, Icon, Sport and Excel trimmed models include 98bhp 1.3 petrol, 89bhp 1.4 diesel and 130bhp 1.6 petrol with six speed manual boxes and sequential automatic transmission on all but the 134bhp 1.8 petrol Hybrid which is available only with a continuously variable transmission.

HOME STRETCH: The new hybrid Toyota Auris Touring Sports Icon Synergy Drive is more than two metres long – the longest in its class.

Externally, the Auris Touring Sports is the same as its hatchback stablemate but the longer body has a strengthened fifth door frame to improve rigidity and the rear suspension is either a torsion beam or, on more powerful versions, double wishbones.

This beam or wishbones gives this estate a low floor and under it are more compartments while the hybrid battery pack under the rear seat helps balance and handling.

Toyota has taken the opportunity here to improve the steering, reduce noise, vibration and harshness together with modern external LED lighting details.

Oddments space is very good throughout and the access for driver and passengers is quite good unless you really need to open a back door very wide and the rear wheel arch restricts the opening.

For an estate it rides well over indifferent roads, very well on good surfaces.

But the thoughtfulness put into this car was let down by a higgledy-piggledy arrangement of the features on the facia with a cheap looking plastic finish and the central console and a sat nav and media display set lower than I would think ideal with small outlet vents for the air conditioning system.

Road deaths lowest ever, except cyclists

A FALL in deaths on the road to the lowest number since records began has been welcomed by the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (RoSPA).

But the safety champion has raised concern at the rise in cyclist deaths.

Now RoSPA is calling for greater provision for training cyclists, improved driver awareness and safer roads for cyclists.

The provisional road casualty figures for Great Britain in 2012, published by the Department for Transport, show that overall road deaths fell by eight per cent to 1,754 in 2012.

RoSPA feels that unusually heavy rainfall in the spring and summer probably led to less walking, cycling and motorcycling, and may be part of the reason for the fall in casualties.

However the number of pedal cyclists killed rose by 10 per cent to 118 and those seriously injured rose, for the eighth year in a row, to 3,222.

The increase in deaths was mainly among the young with the number of child cyclists killed doubling from six in 2011 to 13 in

DANGERS: Only cyclist deaths on the roads are increasing. Now RoSPA is working at ways to bring down this figure too 2012, although the number seriously injured fell by a fifth. There were also increases in the number of child car passengers killed from 21 in 2011 to 27 in 2012.

RoSPA's road safety chief Kevin Clinton said: "The good news of a large drop in road deaths in 2012 is marred by an increase in cyclist deaths.

"Even though road deaths in 2012 were at their lowest level since records began, we need to redouble our efforts to make sure that cyclist deaths and injuries are reduced as the popularity of cycling increases.

"The fact that most of the increase in cycling deaths was among child cyclists is particularly worrying. As well as increasing the provision of cyclist training and trying to make the roads safer for cyclists, we also need to hammer home the message to drivers to keep their speed down, watch out for cyclists and give them enough room on the road."

There were 61 children killed on the roads in 2012, one more than in 2011, and 420 pedestrian deaths. Motorcyclists killed fell by nine per cent to 328.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', ('T') etc, in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A Box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. YOUTH GAMES GET UNDERWAY

OLYMPIC gold medallist Joanna Rowsell and Britain's Got Talent winner Warren Russell of Diversity lit up a superb opening ceremony for the 2013 Balfour Beatty London Youth Games finals on Thursday July 4.

Around 3,000 primary aged young people were competing at the School Games competition at the National Sports Centre, Crystal Palace. It was the first of three days of competitive sport for 10,000 young Londoners from all 33 London boroughs which runs through to Saturday and Sunday's competitions for secondary aged participants.

Rowsell and Russell wowed the audience as they strode to the stage with the flame to get the day off to a bang.

Both are former London Youth Games competitors. Rowsell represented Sutton in cycling in 2004 and Russell competed in gymnastics for Barking & Dagenham in 2006-08.

Rowsell said: "It was really special to be asked to light the flame. I remember the London Youth Games being fun, but it was also quite competitive.

"It was incredibly important because it gave the experience of competition without being too serious. You've got that pride of representing your borough which gives you motivation to try that bit harder.

"There were much better cyclists than me, but it was really good to learn from them. London Youth Games has that sort of Olympic feel that gets kids excited."

Russell said: "It's an amazing experience, it's one you never forget, the buzz.

"The London Youth Games is massively important because there's so much negativity around youth in London and the London Youth Games gives young people such a focus and drive."

National cap for schoolboy

PLAYER: Joshua Banfield

CHIGWELL School student Joshua Banfield has been presented with his international cap after representing the Independent Schools FA National Under-18 team this season.

Joshua, 17, was selected to go on tour to Spain where he played matches against Real Madrid, Athletico Madrid and CD Leganes.

The final match of the season saw the Year 12 student awarded his international cap after helping the team secure a 3-2 victory over Scottish Independent Schools at Nantwich FC.

Creag Lawrence, Head of Football and PE teacher at Chigwell School, said: "Joshua has worked incredibly hard over the past few years at all his sports and his efforts certainly paid off with the tour to Madrid and his international cap against Scotland!"

Joshua said: "The opportunity to play against both Real Madrid and Athletico Madrid was an experience I will never forget.

"They were technically superior but our hard work as a team saw us draw 3-3 with Athletico which was the highlight of the tour."

School teams celebrate win

EASTBURY Comprehensive School Under 14s and Writtle Minors Girls Under 10s - represented their county with pride on the weekend of June 29 and 30 at Birmingham's National Futsal Centre, bringing back national titles from the 2013 FA National Youth Futsal Festival.

The finals showcased the best young teams from around the country. Eastbury, from Hulse Avenue in Barking, and Writtle were two of four teams representing Essex having battled their way through county and regional stages to emerge as the best in England for their age group.

The finals day for the younger age groups (Under 10s and 12s Boys and Girls) took place on Saturday, before the older age groups hit the courts on Sunday (Under 14s and 16s Boys and Girls). Minors' girls team, managed by Steve Keys, were first to collect silverware to add to their existing league and cup double.

Their age group was divided into two groups of five teams, with the winners and runners-up of each making the semi-finals. They began with a 5-2 success against FC Aztec of the East Midlands, followed up by a single-goal win over highly rated Lads Club Girls from the West Midlands. North & Yorkshire victors Willow Primary were then dispatched, 2-1, and Writtle had topped the group with a game spare.

In their last group match they won 2-1 against Real Weymouth to end with a 100 per cent record, momentum they maintained into the semi-finals as they secured a 2-1 success against Tottenham Hotspur.

A tense final against Liverpool's St Anne's Rovers Community ended 1-0 in their favour meaning that, from an initial 2,000 teams which entered the competition overall, they were the champions.

Eastbury began their Sunday schedule with a group game against Allexton & New Parks JFC from the East Midlands and won 4-1, then going one better - 5-1 against West Midlands' Saha Buccaneers.

Eastbury fought back to draw 2-2 with Netherwood from Yorks and had to win their last game to qualify for the knockouts, which they did with a 3-2 victory over St Peter's School from the South-West.

Mark Omotobora ran riot with five goals as they breezed through their semi against Surrey Casuals before sealing the title against St John Fisher Catholic College from the West Midlands, Daniel Cheema and golden boot winner Omotobora making it 2-0.
